

Michael Gleich, born 1960, is a journalist specializing in vivid, hands-on elucidation of complex scientific themes.

His books include Mobility – Mankind on The Move, Life Counts. Cataloguing Life on Earth, Web of Life. The art of interconnected living, Successful Peacebuilders (Peace Counts project), and Culture Counts. The Chances of Cultural Diversity. For his work he has received awards including the German Award for Environmental Journalism, the “Mobility Needs” journalism prize, Scientific Book of the Year (for Life Counts), the German Environment Foundation’s book prize, and on two occasions the Development Policy Media Prize awarded by the office of the German president.

He is founder of the registered charity "Culture Counts Foundation" dedicated to support "Constructive Journalism". In 2010 he was co-founder of the Peace Support Network, a German charity dedicated to support and fund best practice peace project in conflict zones worldwide.

2008 he was appointed Ashoka Fellow as one of the leading Social Entrepreneurs in Germany.